

IVEAGH UNITED FOOTBALL CLUB

CHILD PROTECTION POLICY & CLUB PROCEDURES

FOREWORD

The protection of children in football is a priority of the highest order for Iveagh United Football Club.

The identification, nurturing and development of talent is a primary focus of any football club. It has become more and more important to take responsibility for the care and welfare of our young aspiring boys and girls. Football, like all sport, should be an exciting experience and must be fun if we are to retain the interest of youngsters. It has a social function and the quality of the experience will determine whether children retain an Interest in football and if sport becomes an integral part of their lifestyles. There is also a duty of care to ensure that parents are satisfied that the quality of coaching is of the highest order, and there is also a responsibility on the part of the Iveagh Utd that children within its teams are treated with respect and are professionally managed. It is a huge responsibility nowadays to provide through football a safe and secure environment for young children, but it is a responsibility that cannot be neglected.

In recognising our responsibility to safeguard the welfare of all children, young people and vulnerable adults and by protecting them from inappropriate behaviour and all forms of abuse, Iveagh United Football Club is determined to ensure that football opportunities for children and young people are provide to the highest possible standard of care.

This policy and procedures document was formally agreed by the Committee of Iveagh United Football Club on 27 April 2010. Any Amendments to the document will require the approval of the Committee.

POLICY STATEMENT

The welfare of children and young people is paramount to Iveagh United Football Club. We will endeavour to provide an environment which values and protects all children and young people, regardless of their age, gender, disability, culture, language, racial origin, religious beliefs or sexual orientation. It is the policy of Iveagh United Football Club to protect children and young people involved in football from inappropriate behaviour and all types of abuse.

The Children (Northern Ireland) Order (1995) is based on a clear and consistent set of principles designed with the common aim of promoting the welfare of children. Children have the right to be safe. All coaches should ensure that this fundamental principle takes precedence over all other considerations. This policy applies to all those involved in Iveagh United Football Club, in particular coaches, administrators, officials, volunteers, parents, young people, doctors, physiotherapists, team attendants or staff.

EQUALITY

Iveagh United Football Club will endeavour to ensure all participants in club activities will be given equal opportunity irrespective of age, gender, parental or marital status, colour, race, ethnic origin, creed, disability, social status or sexual orientation.

CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

Iveagh United Football Club staff or representatives will never promise to keep secrets. However, information of a confidential nature will only be communicated on a "need to know" basis, with the welfare of the child remaining paramount. Considerations of confidentiality will not be allowed to override the rights of children or young people to be protected from harm (see Appendix 11).

AWARENESS OF THE ISSUES

Background knowledge in relation to child abuse, the general principles of child protection and the ability to recognise and respond to abuse are important issues. Of primary concern for Iveagh United Football Club is the issue of protecting our children, young players and vulnerable adults within the operation of our facilities and activities. However, being cognisant of the indicators of abuse/inappropriate behaviour caused by others outside Iveagh United Football Club activities is of an equal importance for the safety and well being of that child/young player.

WHAT IS CHILD ABUSE?

Child abuse occurs when a child is neglected, harmed, or not provided with proper care. Children may be abused in many settings; in a family, in an institutional or community/sporting setting, by those known to them, or more rarely, by a stranger. There are different types of abuse and a child may suffer more than one of them.

Co-operating to Safeguard Children (2003) formally recognises four types of abuse:

Physical Abuse may occur when a person:

- deliberately physically hurts a child by hitting, shaking, squeezing, biting etc.
- gives a child access to alcohol, cigarettes, drugs or other dangerous substances.

In a footballing context this may occur when:

- the nature or intensity of the training disregards the capacity of the child's/young player's growing and maturing body
- the child/young player is predisposed to injury resulting from fatigue or overuse (excessive and inappropriate training methods)
- the child/young player is given drugs to enhance their performance.

Emotional Abuse may happen through:

- severe or persistent lack of care and attention for the child
- shouting at, taunting or threatening the child
- conveying to a child that they are worthless, unloved or inadequate.

In a footballing context:

- where the coach/volunteer uses his/her position of power to bully the child/young player into something he/she is uncomfortable with
- where a child/young player is valued only in so far as they meet the needs of the coach
- never giving a child/young player the chance to play or feel valued as part of the squad
- a coach/volunteer constantly shouting at a child/young player in front of others, causing embarrassment
- parents/guardians/supporters on the touchline verbally harassing players on the pitch.

Neglect includes situations where an adult:

- fails to meet the child's basic needs - for example, food, water, clothing etc.
- constantly leaves the child unsupervised or not cared for.

In a footballing context:

- Continuously leaving a child/young player out of the team
- Constantly ignoring a child/young player
- Making a child/young player play in extreme cold conditions while inadequately dressed
- Making a child/young player play in extreme heat without sufficient fluid intake, or adequate protection from the sun
- Continuously showing favouritism towards certain players.

Sexual Abuse is when a person uses children to meet their own sexual needs through:

- full sexual intercourse, masturbation, oral and anal intercourse and fondling
- non-contact activities such as involving a child in looking at, or in the production of pornographic material
- inappropriately telling children sexually explicit stories or jokes.

In a footballing context:

- The coach/volunteer involved in horseplay or sexually provocative games with the children/young players
- The coach/volunteer using, or letting the children/young players use sexually explicit language

- The coach/volunteer inappropriately touching children/young players.

The coach/volunteer must realise the significant position they represent in the child/young player's life and must ensure they do not abuse their position of trust and be an appropriate role model.

The following is a list of some indicators of abuse, but it is not exhaustive:

BULLYING

Although Bullying has not been defined as abuse within the Children (NI) Order 1995, it has been recognised by the Regional Area Child Protection Procedures produced in 2005.

Bullying has been defined as: “deliberately hurtful behaviour usually repeated over a period of time, where it is difficult for those bullied to protect themselves”.

It can take many forms, but the three main types are physical (e.g. hitting, kicking, theft), verbal (e.g. racist or sectarian remarks, threats, name-calling) and emotional (e.g. isolating an individual from the activities and social acceptance of his peer group). The damage inflicted by bullying can frequently be underestimated. It can cause considerable distress to children, to the extent that it affects their health and development or, at the extreme, causes them significant harm (including self-harm).

The coach/leader is in a position of trust and has a responsibility to make sure that bullying does not occur within the club. If it does, they must take the appropriate measures to make sure it is addressed and to ensure it does not happen again.”

Vulnerability of those with a Disability

Safeguards for children with a disability should be the same as those for other children. Special input may be required if the child has severe or multiple disabilities. In the largest study into the issue of disabled children and abuse Sullivan & Knutson (2000) found that 31% of disabled children had been abused, compared to a percentage rate of 9% among the non-disabled child population. Disabled children have the same needs as other children.

They may also have additional needs associated with their disability, which may increase their vulnerability to abuse:

- Children with disabilities are often more dependent on adults, e.g. in intimate care needs and may be cared for by a number of different adults.
- Such children often spend a lot of time away from home.
- Children with disabilities may be unable to recognise abusive behaviour because they may have learning difficulties or a lack of awareness, and because they may have reduced exposure to normal adult/children interactions. For example, a child with disabilities may have difficulty in differentiating between appropriate and inappropriate touching.
- Some children, particularly those with physical disabilities, may have a poor and/or incomplete body image and therefore may not recognise inappropriate behaviour.

Guidelines for responding to a disclosure:

DO

- Stay calm
- Listen & hear. Give the person time to say what they want
- Reassure them that they have done the right thing in telling someone and that it will be dealt with appropriately
- Record in writing what was said as soon as possible
- Report to someone else in the organisation - Child Officer
- Record your report.

DON'T

- Panic
- Promise to keep secrets
- Enquire into the details of the abuse
- Make a child repeat the story unnecessarily
- Ask leading questions

ANTI-BULLYING AND HARASSMENT STATEMENT

Staff, coaches and volunteers and staff should challenge bullying in any form i.e. physical or emotional. Physical bullying can take the form of attacks, such as hitting, kicking, taking or damaging belongings. Emotional bullying may be a verbal assault, including name-calling, insults, persistent teasing, sectarian/racist remarks, or it may take more indirect forms, such as spreading malicious gossip, rumours or excluding someone from a social group.

Bullying is not an accepted behaviour towards anyone be they a coach/volunteer, parent/guardian or child/young player. Anyone found to be bullying others will be dealt with seriously both in regards to the behaviour exhibited and the reasons for the behaviour (see Anti-Bullying policy Appendix 12 for more details).

AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION

It is important that there is a free flow of information between coaches/volunteers, parents/guardians and children, in terms of what we aim to achieve in our duty to care for children, young players and vulnerable adults involved in our activities.

Parents/guardians should know what we do and how we do it, and that the coaches should be on hand during, or after coaching sessions, for consultation or advice. When appropriate, letters (or telephone contact) will be issued in relation to further information or specifics in respect of an event etc.

A regular review of IFA policies and procedures will take place through meetings with staff/coaches/volunteers.

IVEAGH UNITED RECRUITMENT PROCEDURES FOR THOSE IN REGULATED POSITIONS

Guidance for this recruitment procedure has been taken from:

- the Code of Ethics and Good Practice for Children's Sport 2006
- our Duty to Care
- co-operating to Safeguard Children, 2003.

Iveagh United Football Club relies heavily on the time and commitment given by staff and volunteers, and without this the opportunities for children, young people and vulnerable adults to play football would not exist.

Iveagh United Football Club will ensure good recruitment procedures by:

- defining the role the individual is applying for (job specification)
- insisting that a person applying for any post of responsibility associated with the club completes the relevant form*
- obtaining two references in writing
- obtaining the individual's signed permission to enable Iveagh United Football Club to request an appropriate vetting check (Photo ID should be provided)
- setting a probationary period for staff and coaches
- assessing the individual's experience of working with children, young people and vulnerable adults, along with their knowledge of child protection issues
- assessing their commitment to promoting good practice
- assessing their ability to communicate with children/young players (i.e. approachability). One way of doing this is to consult children/young players or ask questions to examine how a person would respond to a particular scenario e.g. are they authoritarian or too relaxed in their approach.

- be informed if their child is injured
- contribute to decisions within the club
- speak to the coach/co-ordinator and voice their concerns about the standard of coaching.

Any misdemeanours and breach of this Code of Conduct will be dealt with immediately by the coach/co-ordinator. Persistent concerns or breaches will result in the parent or guardian being asked not to attend the club/centre if their attendance is detrimental to the child/young player's welfare. Should a parent/guardian continue to breach the code of behaviour, the coach/co-ordinator may regrettably ask the child/young player to leave the club/centre.

If you do not know who to turn to for advice or are worried about sharing your concerns with a club official, you can contact the IFA Child Welfare Officer, Jim Grattan, on 02890688426, Social Services direct (or the NSPCC on 0808 800 5000 or Childline on 0800 1111) at any stage during the process. The issue can be referred externally either formally or informally for advice. Following the external outcome the matter may be referred back to the club's Committee.

Are you concerned about the behaviour of an individual representing your club?

Is it serious poor practice/an alleged breach of the code of ethics and conduct?

The Designated Children's Officer within the club will deal with it as a misconduct issue.

Possible outcomes:

- No case to answer
- Warrants advice/warning as to future conduct/sanctions
- Further training and support needed
- Referral to POCVA register

This person will then refer concerns to the social services (who may involve the police). If the allegation concerns the Designated Children's Officer, refer directly to the IFA Child Welfare Officer who will facilitate referral of the concerns to social services (who may involve the police).

Possible outcomes:

- Police/Social Services inquiry – joint protocol interview

GUIDANCE FOR AWAY TRIPSAway Trips

Travelling to away fixtures is a regular event for many junior clubs. Trips may vary from short journeys across town to play another local team or involve more complicated arrangements involving overnight stays. But even what may appear as the most straightforward of trips will require some level of planning. The following will outline a number of issues that need to be considered when travelling with children/young players.

Communication

Children/young players – they should be aware of the travel plans, venue and time for collection, time of return and any costs. Children/young players should also have a clear understanding of what standard of behaviour is expected of them. Children/young players must know what kit they need to bring with them.

Parents/guardians – should be made aware of the above and must have completed a consent form detailing any medical issues that the team manager should be aware of. Parents/guardians should also have the name and contact details of the team manager/coach in the event of an emergency.

Other coaches/volunteers – need to be made aware of what their responsibilities are in advance of the trip. If the trip is a long journey, it is important that all coaches/volunteers have an itinerary.

Transport

For more detailed transport procedures see Appendix 10, but the following are some basic points.

- Ensure the driver has an appropriate and valid driving licence
- Allow an appropriate length of time to complete the journey
- Consider the impact of traffic and weather conditions
- If using a mini-bus ensure that all seats are forward facing and they all have seat belts fitted if carrying children. Is the driver experienced in driving a mini-bus?
- Ensure everyone wears seat belts
- Check there is appropriate insurance for the journey
- Clarify supervision requirements. The driver should not be considered as a supervisor during the journey.
- Ensure that the vehicle is road worthy
- Ensure booster seats are used where appropriate.

Insurance

In addition to the mini-bus/car insurance, ensure that general insurance covers travel to away events.

Emergencies

Ensure that the vehicle has breakdown and recovery cover. At least one of the adults should be trained in first aid procedures and a first aid kit should be available. The manager/coach should have access to a mobile phone and contact details for all the children/young players.

The above are only basic points of advice and are not comprehensive guidelines.

When arranging for events/trips abroad, the club will be dependent on the ability of the host organisation to access vetting services and obtain appropriate references. It is still the responsibility of the trip organiser to provide the hosts with the relevant information on the children/young players and details of what is expected.

Coach/Manager Must:

- Plan well in advance of the trip
- Check Club guidelines
- Gather information on destination and venue (if possible carry out a risk assessment)
- Facilitate information meetings prior to the trip for parents/guardians and children/young players
- Maintain confidentiality about sensitive information
- Be a role-model during the trip (disciplined/committed/time keeping)
- Foster team work to ensure the safety of children/young players in their care
- Respond to children/young players statements and concerns
- Record any complaints or accidents on relevant documentation
- Provide the children/young players, parents/guardians and host with an itinerary of events
- Have clear arrangements for collecting and transporting children/young players during the trip
- Ensure that if a child/young player has to share a room that it is with someone of the same age/gender and that they are aware of who this is in advance
- Check adequate insurance cover is arranged
- Ensure they have received the relevant documentation from the child's parents/guardians
- Inform parents/guardians and children/young player of standards of behaviour required and possible sanctions
- Ensure that there is an appropriate adult/child ratio
- Submit a report to Iveagh United Football Club after the trip
- Make parents/guardians and children/young players aware of photographic policy and obtain parental/guardian signature (or include on permission form).

Coach/Manager is entitled to:

- Have support from Iveagh United Football Club if reporting any concerns about the arrangements
- Be protected from abuse by children/young players, other adults, members or parents/guardians involved in the trip
- Not be left vulnerable when working with children/young players
- Receive relevant information from parents/guardians in advance of a trip/residential i.e. Dietary needs, any personal care needs;
- Emergency contact numbers;
- Signed medical consent form/permission form;
- List of any medication/allergies;
- E111 form completed (EU visits).
- Be respected by the children/young players in preparation of/during the trip/residential
- Have any personal “out of pocket” expenses reimbursed
- Be able to apply sanctions in line with the guidelines as discussed prior to the trip
- Have time off i.e. another adult is the point of contact for an emergency rather than one individual all the time.

Child/Young Player has a right to

- Be safe
- Have any concerns listened to
- Be respected by their coach/leader
- Have easy access to phone contact with the trip organizer
- Have a list of events (itinerary)
- Regular group meetings with other young people
- Have their religious needs facilitated
- Have prior knowledge of the climatic variation to enable them to bring adequate clothing
- Be made aware of the codes required for phoning home
- Maps of the local area
- Have the currency of the country they are visiting explained to them
- Be made aware of collection and drop off arrangements.

Children/Young players Must:

- Show respect to their host family
- Show respect to other players and coaches
- Keep themselves safe
- Report abuse/inappropriate behaviour
- Attend any prior planning meeting to ensure they are fully informed of the plans
- Maintain the football club’s reputation by adhering to its Code of Conduct

- Discuss their dietary needs with the host family (though it is the parent's/guardian's/organiser's responsibility to ensure this information is passed on in advance)
- Maintain the accommodation to appropriate standards
- Be aware that they are acting as an ambassador for their football club
- Depending on arrangements with parents/guardians, manage their own money.

Parents/Guardians

Right To:

- Know their child is safe
- Be informed of any problems or concerns relating to their child
- Be informed if their child is injured
- Have their consent sought prior to the trip
- Contribute to the decisions in planning the trip (when appropriate)
- Have knowledge of where their child is staying and with whom
- Have a contact number for their child's hosts and trip organizer
- Have a detailed itinerary of events in which their child will be taking part.

Parents/guardians Must:

- Be aware of the Code of Conduct for Children/Young Players, Coaches/Volunteers and Hosts
- Agree disciplinary procedures with the coach and child prior to the trip
- Ensure the child has appropriate spending money
- Pay for relevant costs prior to their child going on the trip
- Provide the coach with all relevant documents and emergency contact number(s)
- Ensure the child has a valid passport and photographic ID (if required) prior to the trip
- Provide appropriate clothing to meet the needs of the child while away from home
- Drop off and collect their child at agreed time/location
- Encourage their child to play by the rules of the game.

Overseas Trips

When arranging for events/trips abroad the club will be dependent on the ability of the host organisation to access vetting services and obtain appropriate references. It is still the responsibility of the trip organiser to provide the hosts with the relevant information on the child/young player and details of what is expected.

PHOTOGRAPHY & VIDEOING GUIDANCE

PHOTOGRAPHS AND IMAGES OF CHILDREN

There have been concerns about the risks posed directly and indirectly to children and young people through the use of photographs on sports websites and other publications. Photographs can be used as a means of identifying children when they are accompanied with personal information – this is X who lives at Y, is a member of the Z football club and who likes a certain music group. This information can make a child/young player vulnerable to an individual who may wish to start to “groom” that child/young player for abuse. Secondly the content of the photo can be used or adapted for inappropriate use. There is evidence of this adapted material finding its way onto child pornography sites.

Iveagh United Football Club decided that it needed to develop a policy in relation to the use of images of young people on its website and in other publications. The Club has considered the type of images that are suitable and that appropriately represent football, without putting children/young players at increased risk. We have ensured that parents/guardians support this policy. When assessing the potential risks in the use of images of young footballers, the most important factor is the potential of inappropriate use of images of children/young players. By increasing the awareness of the potential risks and taking appropriate steps the potential for misuse of images can be reduced.

Iveagh United Football Club will:

- Obtain parental permission for use of photographs of children/young players.
- Avoid the use of the first name and surname of individuals in a photograph. This reduces the risk of inappropriate, unsolicited attention from people within and outside of football.
- Ask for the child/young player’s permission to use their image.
- Only use images of children/young players in suitable dress to reduce the risk of inappropriate use.

GUIDELINES FOR USE OF PHOTOGRAPHIC FILMING EQUIPMENT AT CLUB EVENTS

Iveagh United Football Club will:

- provide a clear brief about what is considered appropriate in terms of content and behaviour
- ensure that local press photographers must also wear and show identification at all times
- inform children/young players and parents/guardians that a photographer will be in attendance at an event and ensure they consent to both the taking and publication of films or photographs
- not allow unsupervised access to children/young players or one to one photo sessions at events
- not approve/allow photo sessions outside of the events or at a child/young player's home
- ensure that if parents/guardians or coaches are intending to photograph or video at an event, they are aware of Iveagh United Football Club expectations that club official may want to confirm that the photographer has a justifiable reason for taking the pictures
- inform children/young players and parents/guardians that if they have concerns they could report these to a club official
- encourage anyone with concerns regarding inappropriate or intrusive photography to report these to the event organiser or official and have them recorded in the same manner as any other child protection concern.

TRANSPORTING CHILDREN/YOUNG PLAYERS

Guidelines on transporting a child or young player

The issue of transporting children/young players has become very sensitive for football coaches/volunteers and parents/guardians. Many coaches argue that their club/centre could not operate without the goodwill of volunteers and parents/guardians ensuring that children/young players are returned home or transported to events in a private car.

The Child Protection in Sport Unit and guidance from Sport NI encourages coaches/volunteers not to take children/young players on journeys alone in their car. This view has been taken as our knowledge of how those who want to harm children/young players has developed. The vast majority of coaches and volunteers will help out through their genuine desire to see children/young players and see their football develop. Unfortunately, we must face the reality that a minority of others will join a football club/centre to gain access to children/young players and create an air of acceptability about their role, justifying their close contact with children/young players.

Best practice is clearly to avoid transporting a child/young player alone, but Iveagh United Football Club recognises that in some circumstances it is an essential part of a child/young player's participation in training and competition. If all alternatives have been exhausted and an adult has to transport a child/young player there are a number of safety measures that Iveagh United Football Club put in place to minimise risks:

- The driver, like all coaches/volunteers who have access to children/young players in our organisation, should have agreed to an appropriate vetting check being carried out on them
- Parents/guardians should be informed of the person who will be transporting their child, the reasons why and how long the journey will take
- A person other than the planned driver should talk to the child/young player about transport arrangements to check they are comfortable about the plans
- The driver, must ensure that they have insurance to carry others, particularly if they are in a paid position or claiming expenses
- The driver should attempt to have more than one child/young player in the car
- When leaving children/young players off after a match or training session coaches/volunteers should alternate which child/young player is dropped off last. Ideally two children/young players would be left off at an agreed point e.g. one of their family homes.
- The person who leaves children/young players home should be alternated; this would reduce the risk of any one individual from always

- being alone with the child/young player
- The driver should have a point of contact and mobile phone should they break down
- Ensure that children/young players are aware of their rights and they have someone to turn to or report any concerns they may have.
- Children/young players should wear seatbelts at all times
- Booster seats should be used/provided when appropriate

Late collections can present the clubs/centres and coaches/volunteers with particular difficulties. Parents/guardians should be provided with guidelines addressing the issue and outlining their responsibility and the consequences of late collections. Coaches should have contact numbers for parents/guardians and if possible be provided with an alternative contact number. Parents/guardians should have a contact number for the coach/volunteer to inform them of emergencies and possible late collections.

GUIDELINES ON CONFIDENTIALITY

Confidentiality, who needs to know what?

Iveagh United Football Club has a clear commitment to confidentiality and how this is to be respected. This statement covers much broader issues than child protection. We insist that families and children/young players in contact with our organisation are sure, for example, that personal and sensitive details which they have confided about their lives or family situations will not be talked about or passed on to others without their consent. However, the legal principle that 'the welfare of the child is paramount' means that considerations of confidentiality should not be allowed to override the right of children/young players to be protected from harm. Everyone in our organisation, including children/young players, must be aware that they can never promise to keep secrets. However, information of a confidential nature will only be communicated on a 'need to know' basis.

In any situation where there is an allegation or suspicion of abuse, it is important that the rights of both the victim and the alleged perpetrator are protected by ensuring that only those who need to know are given the relevant information.

This will mean, at the very least, informing (where appropriate):

- the person responsible for child protection in Iveagh United Football Club
- where relevant, a statutory child protection agency
- the parent/guardian of the child/young player
- the alleged perpetrator.

Informing the parents/guardians of a child/young player about whom you are concerned will need to be handled in a sensitive way and should only be undertaken in consultation with a statutory agency. Any individual under suspicion whether or not he/she is a staff member or volunteer, has a right to be notified of the cause of the concern. This is another matter that will need careful consideration and should only be undertaken in consultation with a statutory agency. Depending on the outcome of our initial inquiries, staff and other agencies who have contact with either the child/young player concerned or the alleged perpetrator may need to be given brief details of the incident and subsequent action. The statutory agency will keep you right about who should be told, when they should be told, and the kind of information that it is appropriate to share.
